Venice plans 'working cash' to ease funds

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

Faced with serious financial problems, the Venice City Council Tuesday evening passed an ordinance to sell $90,000 in Working Cash Fund Bonds to the First National Bank in Madison at 7.6 percent interest.

A tax levy of 18½ cents per $100 assessed valuation to pay back the bonds was authorized in the same ordinance.

City Comptroller Jeff Tolliver told the council there was not enough money to pay city operating bills and only enough money to meet the next payroll.

City Attorney Harry Hartman said he believes the assessed valuation will drop from approximately $24½ million for 1978 to about $12½ million for 1979.

Hartman said the decrease would be caused by several factors, including the loss of personal property and railroad assessed valuations. He noted it is hard to know what the Illinois legislature is planning in regard to taxes affecting local governments.

The estimated cost to the taxpayers would be, based on $12 million assessed valuation, $9.13 on $5,000 assessed valuation or $5.47 on $3,000 assessed valuation.

"This is only a stop-gap measure that will keep us alive until tax monies come in, about two and a half months from now."

"We have two years before we have to start paying the bank back. We must devise other economies. I don't know of any other tax monies."

"We would need a referendum for more taxes. We could have issued $50,000 in bonds, but where could we get the money to pay the bonds off?"

"We could probably raise the 16 cents

Bonds, industries grow

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record

A supplemental issue of $900,000 in industrial revenue bonds to aid the Michigan Metal Processing Corporation in acquiring additional equipment and to make further improvements to its plant property was authorized by the Granite City Council during a regular meeting Tuesday night.

An increase in jobs of 50 to 100 is being forecast.

An ordinance providing for the additional bond funds also authorized Mayor Paul Schuler and City Clerk Robert Stevens to sign and handle all documents pertinent to the transaction.

The $900,000 in additional bond proceeds supplements a $3.2 million revenue bond issue sold by the city in July 1978 to aid the Michigan Metal Processing Corporation in leasing, equipping and improving plant facilities here.

The steel processing facility began operations last September in part of the former Commonwealth plant formerly operated by the castings division of General Steel Industries. That plant property was bought by Granite City Steel after the GSI steel castings division was shut down and was leased to Michigan Metal Processing Corporation to permit establishment of the new operation here.

The revenue bonds sold by the city as a means of bringing the new business to the city will total $4.1 million when the new supplemental issue is completed. At the time city officials agreed more than a year ago to provide the bond aid for the company, total funds for the project were estimated at $5 million. Sale of such bonds is permitted under an industrial revenue bond ordinance passed in 1973 as a means of bringing more business to Granite City.

The bonds do not constitute a debt for the city. Under the plan all bond

Overpasses? No problem—Officer

Youngest mayor in the nation, Carl E. Officer, 26, told Granite City Rotarians on Tuesday that he plans to turn East St. Louis around with a combination of innovative leadership and stern crime prevention. Gaping holes in streets will be fixed, and traffic will be expedited through addition of six overpasses at on-grade rail-auto crossings, he said.

With Granite City straining to marshal sufficient funds to construct an overpass at 19th Street, and also aware of the need for a traffic separation on East 23rd Street, Officer impressed the club members with his easy-does-it approach to municipal problems, which he predicted can be conquered and quickly.

Avoiding any promises of industrial development early in his new administration, Officer said he is avoiding past East St. Louis practices which emphasized many governmental jobs, some involving little actual work.

Halt arson attempt

An apparent arson attempt at a vacant apartment at 2248 Lee Ave., was apparently halted by a witness or police at 11:45 p.m. Monday.

Neighbors reported a strong odor of gasoline in the block and officers assisted in searching for the source of the smell.

They found a door to the vacant apartment open and discovered gasoline had been poured on the carpeting. A "wick" made of toilet tissue trailed from the carpet out the back door, but had not been lit.

Police evacuated other tenants of the building and called the fire department to remove the gasoline fumes. Arson investigators also have been called into the case.

Police believe the would-be arsonist climbed through a window to gain entry to the apartment.

Why I don't do the things I want to do

I got up that morning and decided that I would spend the day in my backyard soaking up some sun. I dug around in my dresser and found last year's bikini. It would do; no one was going to see me anyway.

The phone rang. It was 8 a.m. It was a girlfriend of mine asking what I was going to do with my day. I told her and invited her to join me. She said she had too much to do.

Poor girl, thought I, can't take time for a little R & R. As we chatted I threw a load of clothes in the washer and the kids came clamoring into the kitchen, looking for breakfast.

I finished my conversation and fixed the boys something to eat. Then it dawned on me. I have a few problems with my drain for the washer and must use the kitchen sink to drain the water from the washing machine. The sink doesn't hold much so I have to stop the washer and wait for the sink to empty. So I would have to wait until the load was completely finished before I could go outside. It was 9 a.m.

I was waiting for the final rinse when the phone rang again. It was my mother, calling from Michigan. I hadn't heard from her in ages and had a lot to tell her. Our conversation was cut short when I realized that the washing machine had filled the sink and the water was overflowing, sending water into the kitchen, plant room, and toward my stereo-speakers.

I shut off the washer, said quite a few words I had heard sailors use and began to mop up. I grabbed every towel in the house and got all of the water up before it got to the carpet. It was 10:30 a.m.

I sat down in the kitchen, had a cup of coffee and watched the washer. Someone knocked on the door. It was the plumber, come to check the washer drainpipe. Figures. He looked it over, told me that it would cost $5,000 to fix and left. It was 11:15.

Ross had a music lesson at 11:30. Got him there just on time and waited for him. We got home at 12:45.

I finished the load of wash and threw the clothes in the dryer. The kids ran into the house looking for lunch. I fixed it and waited. Then I fixed up the dishes from breakfast and lunch. It was 1:30.

I went outside and got the lawnmower out. I cut a patch of lawn about 4 feet by 7 feet, just so I would have a flat place to put my blanket so I could sunbathe. It was 1:45. Heard a noise and glanced up. The sky was beginning to fill with dark clouds, a thunderstorm.

The storm lasted until it was too late to get any sun. I promised myself: tomorrow I'll do it.

Got up the next day...phone rang...it was 8 a.m.

Arrest 4 with marijuana

Four Quad-Cityans were arrested at 2:10 a.m. Tuesday and were charged with possession of cannabis.

A Granite City policeman stopped their car after it allegedly went through a stop sign at 22nd and Benton streets and when the officer approached the car, he alleged two passengers bent down, as though hiding something under the seat.

Nancy L. Keelin, 20, of 3507 Kirkpatrick Homes, was ordered to lift her feet from the floorboard and a plastic bag containing 14 marijuana cigarettes was under her feet, officers alleged. A plastic bag full of marijuana also was found under the seat, they reported.

Charged with possession of cannabis were Miss Keelin, Charles H. Freiner, 23, of 412 Madison Ave., Madison, Michael R. Allen, 23, and Robert A. Allen, 19, both of 2504 W. 23rd St. Freiner, the driver of the auto, also was charged with a stop sign violation, police said.

Venice District seeks new funding sources

At last night's meeting of the Venice Board of Education, action was taken to start a process whereby the present working cash fund with a $500,000 debt, mostly owing to other district funds, could be wiped off the books and a new working cash fund can be established.

Following the advice of the Illinois School Consultants firm, retained by the district, to help resolve its financial problems, the board adopted a resolution abolishing the existing working cash fund.

By establishing a new fund, the Venice School District may then sell bonds up to a limit of $250,000 and borrow from the fund in lieu of issuing 1979 tax anticipation warrants, Supt. of Schools Robert Vickers explained.

The initial tax money collected will be used to pay back outstanding 1978 tax anticipation warrants, he noted.

Board Attorney Lawrence Hartman was directed to prepare a resolution to issue Working Cash Fund bonds by June 6.

The board rescheduled its June 14 meeting to the June 6 date in order to enact the resolution and enable publication of a notice, required by statute, by June 11.

A 10-day waiting period is then necessary before further action can be taken, Vickers said.

Also upon advice of the consultant firm, the board agreed that after all working cash fund money has been borrowed, teachers' orders will be issued up to a total amount of about $250,000, at which time the district can sell funding bonds.

Should a petition be filed for a referendum on the issuance of such bonds, the board still can issue 1979 tax anticipation warrants to pay off the teachers' orders, Vickers explained.

This procedure should get us through next year, the administrator said, adding that the following year should see an increase in available State Aid funds to the Venice district.

Vickers said a Chicago firm has expressed interest in purchasing the funding bonds and has indicated a meeting could be arranged between officers of the company, the board attorney and school superintendent as soon as the necessary legal steps have been taken.

Washington faculty, staff dinner

Washington School faculty and staff members paid tribute to Principal Fred Noeth at a dinner party this week at Charlie's Restaurant.

At the end of the current school year, Washington Grade School will be closed after serving children in the community for 77 years.

As part of the evening's celebration, Noeth presented a large colorful quilt on which the names of all students, faculty and staff at the school building this year were embroidered.

The quilt was hand embroidered by Miss Shirley Sullivan, a second-grade teacher at the school, and then quilted by ladies of Second Baptist Church.

Also honored at the dinner was Dean Pittman, a Learning Center teacher, who is retiring this year.

To mark the closing of the school doors, each child enrolled at Washington School will be invited to ring the school bell in the building's belltower, starting at 9 a.m. Friday.

Teachers have attached a rope to the bell, which has not been used for years. The tolling of the bell probably will not be heard too far outside the building as the towers on the tower were permanently closed some years ago, it was learned.

Memorial Day

Madison Amvets Post 204 will hold a Memorial Day service at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh and Lee streets, Madison.

The Disabled American Veterans (DAV) will place a memorial wreath at the monument in front of the Granite City Hall at 9 a.m. Monday.

Memorial services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday, May 28, at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township, under the auspices of all Catholic parishes in the Quad-City area; it was announced today by Father Victor Chateaubert of St. Joseph Catholic Church, 2101 State St.

A consecrated mass will be offered, with priests from many churches participating.

Should inclement weather prevail Monday morning, the services will be rescheduled at a later date, the spokesman advised.

Memorial Day, formerly known as Decoration Day, is a patriotic holiday to honor members of the American armed forces who gave their lives while serving in the military.

The day began originally to honor soldiers of both the Union and Confederate armies who were killed in battle. Southern women would scatter spring flowers on the graves of the soldiers.

General John A. Logan, in 1868, officially declared May 30 a special day for honoring the fallen Union-soldiers. Logan was commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, which took charge of the memorials until World War I.

From WWI the American Legion accepted the responsibility of the Memorial Day nationally.

Five top achievers from the Granite City Junior Achievement Center at 3307 Wabash Ave. Redd Storey, institute manager for the past 20 years, said, "We are more than happy to award scholarships on a continuing basis to Junior Achievers. This is especially true, since such young people will be running our country. "Anything companies like ours can do to help provide these young people with the skills they will need later, must be done."

Forty-five Achievers were selected from 8,000 members statewide to receive the more than $20,000 in scholarships. Selections are based on Achievers' outstanding work in their mini-companies and their leadership capabilities. Junior Achievement of Mississippi Valley operates the largest JA program in the nation, with 303 mini-companies.

ceded that he is not ignoring political tactics altogether.

Aided by favorable voting this spring, he is gaining dominance over the city, schools, parks and housing authority and is orchestrating City Council decisions through private gatherings, with the actual meetings only a procedural formality, he said.

Justifying his policies with the assertion that honesty and efficiency will be achieved, he said he ignored all other factors in picking the best available police officer as the new chief. A white East St. Louis officer was chosen in the predominantly black city and will rigidly enforce all laws, including traffic control, Mayor Officer for police protection to 30 cents. A general obligation bond is an option, but we could only get about $60,000," Hartman said.

According to Talliver as of Tuesday evening there was only $25,329 in the working cash fund.

The First National Bank in Madison will make $37,240 in interest from the bonds.

The tax increase for the people will begin at 18 1/2 cents per $100 assessed valuation and decrease to 12.9 cents as the bonds are paid off.

Mayor Tyrone Echols said he would like to meet with the insurance committee.

"We have to tailor down some of the benefits and we are going to have to make some salary and expense cuts for some of the city officials," Echols said.

The mayor also noted that city ordinances would be strictly enforced and heavier fines for persons violating the ordinances would be asked for.

On a roll call vote the council passed the bond sale and tax levy ordinance unanimously.

Brush pickups nearing end

Workers of the Granite City Street Department were making pickups of brush, tree limbs and cutting in the Nameki area today in effort to complete a final seasonal, citywide pickup before June 1.

Lionel Portell, street superintendent, said the department intends to discontinue such pickups for the summer period so that workers may devote their time to street repairs and other work. Trucks were making pickups in the area east of Nameki Road today and next week will make pickups in the West Granite City and downtown areas.

●ONK'S DRIVE-IN LIQUOR IT'S QUICKER!

James S. 17... "Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain, and it rained not on the earth for three years and six months."

Our attention is focused on the statement, "he prayed earnestly." Be assured his prayers were more than lip service, more than a ritual, more than vain repetitions. We know this is so not only by the prayer request, (that it rain not) but by the answer he received. (It rained not!).

I am positive that each of us wants answers to our prayers. Wanting answers however, does not always mean, that we will receive them. We must pray earnestly, needing an answer more than wanting one. This will remove insincerity and self-righteousness. This is certain: Elijah received an answer to earnest prayer. So can we.

Pray earnestly. Today.

Eggs into heirlooms — the art of eggging

The egg, a simple thing which comes in many sizes, is being turned into beautiful artwork, cherished by those who own it.

Mrs. Linda Markuly Silvasy, a former Granite Cityan, has been an avid eggger for a long time. She has written a book on the subject so that others might create the magnificent jeweled eggs that she does so beautifully.

Eggs for the craft come from all sorts of places, in all sorts of sizes, from the tiny finch egg to the large ostrich egg.

The eggs are emptied, rinsed and dried before a pattern for cutting is drawn on the shell.

The shells are cut in many ways, depending on what is necessary for the finished design. Some eggs have no openings; others have elaborate designs cut into the shell. Others have hinged doors which open to reveal a tiny three dimensional scene set inside the egg.

The outside of the shells is hardened with a special liquid so that they can be worked with and are less likely to break.

The eggs are colored in various ways and often spout hand painted scenes. Pearls, beads, rhinestones, colored stones, braids and metal specialty items are used to decorate the exterior of the eggs.

On those eggs that have been cut to show the interior, little shelves are often inserted and the designs for the interior are etched.

The eggs are collectibles. They can be decorated in any theme and Mrs. Silvasy has made eggs for wedding favors, baby showers, and all sorts of occasions.

Mrs. Silvasy lives with her military husband at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. She has been encouraging her mother, Mrs. Pando Markuly, to take up eggging.

Mrs. Markuly, who lives in Granite City, has many of her daughter's creations, as do many of her friends and relatives.

Mrs. Markuly has indeed taken up the hobby and said that her daughter's book, "The Jeweled Egg," is really a help since Mrs. Silvasy lives so far away.

"I'm having a good time with eggging," said Mrs. Markuly, "but Linda's eggs are much prettier than mine."

JEWELLED EGGS.

The common everyday, and the not so common, egg becomes an object de art under the skillful hand of the eggger. At the left is a large egg designed in an anniversary theme. Mrs. Pando Markuly received the egg as a 38th anniversary present from her talented daughter. At the right are just a few of Mrs. Linda Silvasy's designs, all owned by her mother and aunt.

Aldermen clash on appointments

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols had most of his city appointments approved at the Tuesday evening council meeting, but not without some difficulties.

The mayor first read a list of his appointments and called for a blanket approval on all appointments.

Second Ward Alderman Hank A. Svezla said, "What about Jerry Cicio as building inspector, who's replacing him as building inspector?" Mayor Echols replied, "The appointments are the prerogative of the mayor and all offices are subject to year by year appointment. They are all vacant."

First Ward Alderman Phillip Daniels asked that each appointment be voted on individually.

Daniels raised the question of the age of George Green, the city hall custodian.

Daniels asked if Green was not past the legal age according to city ordinances. Mayor Echols said to Daniels, "Your nitpicking with the wrong man, don't go making me go to the book every time. We'll table this appointment until it can be checked. Another confrontation came over the appointment of John Henry Williams to fill a newly created job of assistant civil defense director.

Daniels again insisted on a roll-call vote, which Mayor Echols tried to ignore.

Daniels said loudly, "Do I not have a right to call for a roll call vote Mr. Mayor?"

Echols replied, "You're out of order Mr. Daniels until I choose to recognize you."

Daniels said, "Do I not have a right to call for a question?"

City Attorney Harry Hartman said, "Mr. Mayor I did not hear a 4-4 roll-call vote."

Echols replied, "I was not using your ears Mr. Hartman."

A roll-call vote was then called for by Echols.

Aldermen voting in favor of Williams were: Charles Haynes and Victor A. Valentine Sr. of the Fourth Ward and George Lewis and John Ervin of the Third Ward.

Voting against Williams were: Alderman Daniels and E. H. Buente, plus Second Ward Aldermen George Mangiaracino and Hank A. Svezla.

Mayor Echols then voted for Williams, breaking the tie.

A split vote was taken on the appointment of Mickey Daniels as a building inspector. Alderman Daniels abstained from voting as he said he is related to the nominee. Aldermen Buente, Mangiaracino and Svezla all voted against Daniels' appointment.

Aldermen Lewis, Ervin, Valentine and Haynes voted for the appointment.

Alderman Daniels and Mangiaracino voted against

Harry Hartman as city attorney; however the other six aldermen supported the Hartman appointment.

Other appointments made with the unanimous consent of the council were: Thomas Scaturro superintendent of streets, Clarence Bradley assistant superintendent of streets, William McLean fire chief, Willie Dumas assistant fire chief, Thomas Britt fire truck driver, Joseph Meehan humane officer, Denisa Woods custodian, William Gunnewig radio engineer, and Benjamin Honorable civil defense director.

Raymond Mikolaszuk was appointed acting chief of police. Mayor Echols said it had not been determined yet if Mikolaszuk was retiring in August.

Boiler inspectors appointed were: Jack Tolliver, William McGarahan and Rodrick L. Bauder.

Barbara Madison and Verna McClellan were appointed to the Library board. City Comptroller Jeff Tolliver informed the council he was resigning his position effective June 8 and Pawnee Riggs was appointed acting

Seek manufacturer of lead 'knuckles'

Granite City police are conferring with agents of the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Bureau of the U.S. Treasury Department to determine what charges can be initiated against a Centerville man who allegedly manufactured lead "knuckles" in his basement while he was living in Granite City.

Officers searched the man's former residence in the 2900 block of Edison Avenue at 4:35 p.m. Tuesday and found 260 lead castings in the shape of "brass knuckles" in the man's workshop in the basement of his home. Some were still in molds, some were in the process of being finished and others were completed and were stacked under the workbench, it was reported.

Lead melting equipment, a torch and other items needed for manufacturing the knuckles were in the workshop, officers alleged.

The lead knuckles were seized by officers as evidence while charges are being considered.

AFL-CIO leader active at the state level for 22 years

The Executive Board of the Illinois State AFL-CIO, in electing Robert G. Gibson, 51, of Chicago, as its new president, has chosen a labor leader of long and varied experience.

He will fill the unexpired term of Stanley L. Johnson, who submitted his resignation effective May 11. The election took place May 18.

Gibson had been serving as secretary-treasurer of the organization since 1963. He is a member of Steelworkers Local No. 16, Granite City.

He served as a local union officer prior to being appointed to staff of the former Illinois State Industrial Union Council (CIO) in 1967.

He was then named director of Community Services upon the merger of that organization with the Illinois State Federation of Labor in October 1968 and served in that capacity until he was named Illinois AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer upon the death of Maurice McElligott in 1963.

Gibson has been active politically in the Democratic Party.

He has held the posts of president of the Young Democrats of Illinois, national treasurer of the Young Democratic Clubs of America and delegate to five national Democratic conventions.

He represented labor on numerous boards, including the American Red Cross and the National Council of the United Services Organization (USO), which he served as president during the U.S. Bicentennial celebration.

Gibson is the third person to serve as president since the merger in 1968, following Reuben G. Soerstrom and Stanley L. Johnson. The latter was named president emeritus at the meeting.

Harl H. Ray, 61, of Champagne, a member of Operating Engineers Local 399, was elected to the position of secretary-treasurer to succeed Gibson.

Ray is presently a state AFL-CIO legislative assistant and is state director of the Illinois AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE).

He served for six years as president of the Champaign-Urbana Federation of Labor prior to being named to that position.

The offices both pay $48,000 per year. Their terms will expire on March 31, 1980.

The Illinois State AFL-CIO represents over one million members of three thousand local unions of affiliates of the AFL-CIO working in Illinois.

2 hurt on 203 at Bend Road

Mrs. Efel Jones, 63, Brooklyn was seriously injured when her car and the auto of Bernard Zabawa 57, of 2916 Dugwood Drive, collided on Route 203 at Bend Road at 3:55 p.m. Tuesday.

Zabawa also was injured and both drivers were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Mrs. Jones was unconscious at the scene and a concussion was diagnosed, so she was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Zabawa, whose head struck his car's windshield, suffered multiple cuts to his face and forehead and multiple abrasions. He was released after X-rays were taken.

Initial reports released by Illinois State Police indicated they are investigating the cause of the accident, but no citations have been issued.

She had resided at the center for the past five months.

Mrs. Trent was born in Dexter, Mo., and had lived in Granite City and nearby communities for 27 years. She was of the Baptist faith.

Surviving are her husband, Henry Trent; four daughters, Mrs. Donald (Sandra) Brown of Granite City; Mrs. John (Audrey) Herring of Ferguson, Mo.,

Name Girl's State delegates

Three junior year students at Quad-City high schools today were announced as delegates to the 1979 Illinois Girl's State program, sponsored by the Illinois Department of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. George K. Durbin, Girl State chairman for the American Legion Auxiliary 77-City Unit 113, announced the selection of Lesilee McIntyre and Susan Bell as representatives of the unit.

Miss Dorothy Hinson of Venice-Madison American Legion Auxiliary Unit 307 said Vergia Franklin will represent the unit.

Miss Franklin is the daughter of Mrs. Theresa Franklin, 1026 Market St., Venice.

She is a junior at Madison High School, where she has played leadership roles in potential through various activities in school programs.

Miss McIntyre, a junior at Granite City High School North, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McIntyre, 2930 Angela Drive.

She is a member of the Lettermen's and Recreational clubs and is active in volleyball, field hockey, basketball and the German Club.

Miss Bell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bell, 3108 Ash St., is a junior at Granite City High School South.

She is a member of the Honor Society and Lettermen's Club, takes part in the basketball and tennis programs and is majoring in science.

Miss Hinson will serve as dean of education at the 39th annual Girl's State program, scheduled to take place June 17 to 24 on the campus of MacMurray College in Jacksonville, Ill.

Returning to Girl's State this year will be Miss Jane Maloesian of Granite City, who represented Tri-City Unit 113 in 1977. She will serve as a counselor.

The purpose of the program is to provide citizenship training.

About 575 high school junior girls from all sections of Illinois will attend.

Participants are afforded an opportunity to live together as self-governing citizens and to learn "by doing" the duties and responsibilities of American citizenship, as well as the rights and privileges, in order to better understand and participate in the functioning of government, Mrs. Durbin explained.

Girl's State is a mythical state, patterned after the State of Illinois' governmental bodies as closely as possible.

The girls form two political parties, live in separate counties and cities, hold conventions, campaigns, caucuses and elections.

They also perform various duties pertaining to specific public offices.

As part of the program, the delegates spend one day in Springfield at the Capitol Building to observe the state officials performing their assigned tasks, Mrs. Durbin said.

To be eligible for Girl's State, candidates are required to be a junior in high school and to be sponsored by a unit of the

He and his family live in Granite City.

Pfizer Genetics produces and markets Trojan brand hybrid seed corn and Pfizer Genetics soybean and sorghum seed.

Choose fair, lottery heads

Governor James R. Thompson announced the reappointments Monday of two agency superintendents.

Reappointed are: Richard W. Carlson, Springfield, as superintendent of the Illinois State Lottery, and Nick Alexander, Springfield, as superintendent of the State Fair Agency.

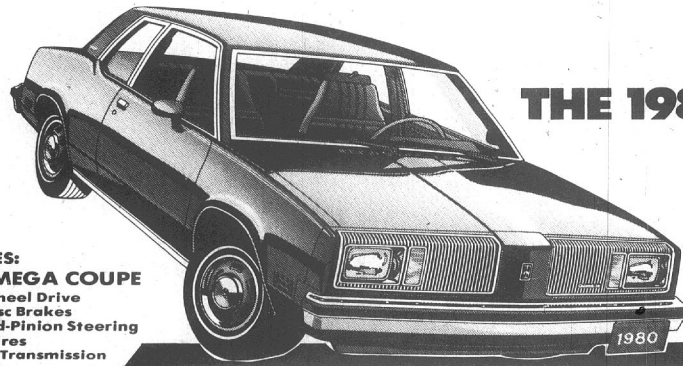

Alexander's appointment is a permanent one. He had been serving as fair head in an acting capacity since Nicholas L. Stone resigned last September.

Salary of the lottery superintendent is $35,200 a year. The fair superintendent will receive $25,200 a year.

Both appointments are for two-year terms, requiring Senate approval.

Jaycees golf event well attended

Press-Record photo feature by Gary Schneider

SEVERAL DOZEN young people from throughout the Quad-City area participated in Sunday's Jaycees miniature golf contest at Funland in Pontoon Beach. Jaycees present agreed that the annual event was again successful and was enjoyed by golfers and spectators alike.

At far left, Julie Beck of Arlington Heights watches as her ball barely misses on a difficult uphill hole.

Free picnic Tuesday for Vietnam era vets

A free picnic for Vietnam era veterans and their families will be held Tuesday, May 29, at the Granite City Army Installation, featuring awards to outstanding veterans and booths to aid veterans in finding jobs and applying for benefits.

The picnic will be from noon to 9 p.m. and Presidential citations will be presented to outstanding veterans at 6:30 p.m. Numerous agencies are involved in the selection of the outstanding veterans.

The office of Veterans Affairs at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the Veterans Assistance Commission and the Illinois Job Service are co-sponsors of the picnic, which is the major local activity of Vietnam Era Veterans' Week May 28 to June 3. It is hoped the picnic can become an annual event to honor Vietnam era veterans for their contributions to the country and the local area. Organizations which have been invited to set up booths for the event include the Veterans Administration, the Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs, the American Legion, Amvets, Disabled American Veterans, the Job Service and others.

Veterans from throughout the county are being encouraged to attend and their families will be welcome.

Contributions of food and picnic supplies are being sought and those wishing to donate may call Bob Fowler at 875-8900, extension 3330.

Food stamp allotments to increase

Low-income families will receive a 6.8 percent cost-of-food increase in food stamps from the U.S. Department of Agriculture starting July 1.

"The 6.8 percent rise is based on the increase in the cost of foods in the department's Thrifty Food Plan between September 1978 and March 1979," Monroe Woods, Midwest regional administrator for USDA's Food and Nutrition Service, said.

"It is less than the 7.9 percent increase in the cost of all foods because the cost of foods in the Thrifty Food Plan, which uses the cheapest foods available to achieve a nutritionally adequate diet, rose at a slower rate than the increase in all foods. With the increase, food stamp users will be getting an average food stamp benefit of 35 cents per person per meal," he said.

Effective July 1, the maximum monthly allotment in the 48 contiguous states and the District of Columbia for a family of four with no net income will increase from $191 to $204.

Nearly all food stamp households will receive less than this amount, however, because allotments are reduced if families have income, Woods noted.

The maximum monthly net income a family of four may have and still be eligible for food stamps will increase from $542 to $596.

Polish Hall May Festival

The third annual Polish Hall May festival will be held Sunday at 826 Greenwood St., Madison.

The menu will include homemade Polish sausage, fried chicken dinners and hamburgers.

Serving will begin at noon, and carryout orders will be available.

Two dance bands will be featured.

Vince's Internationals will play from 2 p.m. until 7 p.m. and Greg Novak's "Remedy" will play from 7 p.m. until 11 p.m.

The all-day celebration will be held outdoors, weather permitting.

TRACTOR IS TAKEN

The 1974 green John Deere garden tractor and 38-inch mower attachment were stolen from the pickup truck of Dennis Baker, 2428 St. Clair Ave., parked in his driveway between 11 p.m. Monday and 7:15 a.m. Tuesday. Baker said the units are too heavy for one man to lift and would have required a truck or van to take.

Prospects bright for home loan program

Granite City may be able to continue its $10 million Home Mortgage Loan program despite a move in Congress that would halt such plans in the future, Mayor Paul Schuler told the City Council Tuesday night.

He noted, however, that the city would be unable to proceed with a bond sale or other finalizing steps of the program until legislation pertaining to home mortgage loans is passed in Congress, probably next month.

Under the plan, the city would issue bonds to finance home mortgage loans which would carry a reduced interest rate because such bonds would be non-taxable. The congressional action, however, is designed to eliminate the non-taxable provision, which would mean the interest rate would remain about the same as loans obtained through normal channels.

When the Congressional proposal was made last month, it appeared the action might kill the Granite City program, despite the fact the city had completed all steps of the plan up to the actual sale of the bonds.

Mayor Paul Schuler and City Attorney Lance Callis joined other mayors in a trip to Washington last week for hearings on plans that have been developed in a number of cities.

Reporting to the City Council Tuesday night, Mayor Schuler told the aldermen:

"On May 14 and 15 in Washington there was a hearing before the House Ways and Means Committee concerning the Mortgage Revenue Bond Issue. I attended the hearings accompanied by our city attorney because of our local involvement in such a bond issue.

"It is my deep belief that this bond program serves a national as well as a local purpose and is a legitimate use of local governments bonding power.

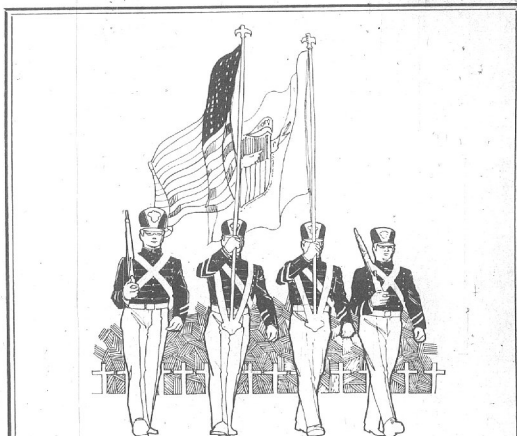

"I am especially concerned with the hopes of the many families who had made plans to realize this dream of home ownership and whose expectations continued to rise during the five months the city was preparing the program. To pull the ring out from these people at the last instant is both heartless and financially damaging to them.

"When I received word from our underwriters and attorneys that Representative Ullman's bill had been introduced and that our program was halted, I along with other mayors throughout our state demanded something be done. As a result the hearings were held.

"I am happy to report that after conferring with Congressman Price and others that the consensus of opinion is that these Bond issues will not be totally blocked but will be modified.

"Insofar as our city is concerned since we were so far along in our program it will probably be allowed to remain as is. The last bill introduced which is sponsored by Congressman Hefelf states:

"Exception for certain official actions. — The

Parents of transfer students visit lake

Mrs. Louise Ware was installed this month for her second term as president of the Lake School Parent-Teacher Association by Mrs. Barbara Haddock, retiring president of the Area Council of PTAs.

Other officers also installed for the 1979-80 school year included Mrs. Faye Hester, vice-president, Mrs. Betty Goforth, secretary, and Mrs. Helen Schmisser, treasurer.

Prior to the installation, four members of Cub Scout Pack 109 presented the colors and led the pledge of allegiance to the flag. The boys, David Ware, David Withers, Chris Mehelic and Ted Stevenson, were under the direction of Mrs. Melba Mehelic and Mrs. Brenda Withers.

Mrs. Ware welcomed the teachers present, plus the parents of children attending Stallings and McKinley Schools who will be attending Lake next year.

Mrs. Goforth, coordinator of Lake's annual spring carnival, announced that the carnival, held May 11, was a success. She thanked the many who had donated their time, cakes for a cakewalk and items for a "sweet shop" and "bargain center."

Mrs. Withers announced that a cultural arts scholarship, to which Lake School donates each year, was awarded to Eric David Miller of Granite City High School South. Miller has also just been awarded the John Phillip Sousa Award.

Mrs. Schmisser, director of Lake's Learning Center, presented each of her volunteer workers a carnation in appreciation of their efforts. They were Mrs. Withers, Mr. Pat Massey, Mrs. Elaine Grayson, Mrs. Ware, Mrs. Shirley Strain, Mrs. Goforth, Mrs. Mary Hayes, Mrs. Ann Siebert and Mrs. Phyllis Warford.

David Johnson announced that a course in CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation), for which 30 people enrolled, will have to be postponed until next fall.

The instructors, who are members of the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department, were unable to schedule the course for Lake PTA because of a shortage in personnel. Johnson said those who enrolled will have the opportunity to do so again in September.

Anyone wishing a refresher course during the summer may contact him through the fire department.

Mrs. Mehelic announced that boys who will be going into the third grade next year may now enroll in Cub Scouts, thereby making them eligible to participate in day camps this summer. More leaders will be needed next year, she added.

Mrs. Ware introduced Edward Gonwa, Lake principal, who again welcomed the group present. He asked the Stallings and McKinley parents to stand and be recognized, after which he introduced Roy Seaman, a teacher from Stallings who will be joining Lake's staff in the capacity of fourth grade teacher in the fall.

The staff of Lake School was presented to the guest parents and a brief outline of the curriculum at Lake was given.

given by Gonwa. He then dismissed the group to tour the school in open-house fashion, the teachers being available for questions and discussions.

Refreshments were provided by the teachers.

At the spring carnival, lasting from noon to 4 p.m., the games were new for the children this year. These included a duck pond, a ring toss, an airplane throw, a golf game, a wishing well, a balloon "but," ball darts, a live goldfish toss and a disco.

Other features included the cakewalk and a puppet show, cartoons, a fortune teller, a grab-bag clown and helium balloons.

The checkerboard squares, a well-known local square dance group, performed in the gym.

The "sweet shop" featured homemade cookies, candies and cupcakes. The "bargain center" offered used toys and games, glassware, children's books, jewelry and outgrown Lake School tee shirts, sweat shirts and jackets.

Sloppy joes, hot dogs, big pickles, popcorn, ice cream, soda and coffee were sold. Mrs. Linda Irwin's and Mrs. Jean Zotti's second-grade classes presented a program this spring entitled "Viva Mexico!"

Counting in Spanish is only the beginning of what second graders at Lake School are being taught. They are studying about Mexico and its people, especially the language they speak.

Each child has been given a new Spanish name and, during the program, each told the audience what his or her new name is in Spanish.

They also counted to 100 in Spanish and identified colors by their Spanish names.

Miss Pat Dineff, music teacher at Lake, directed the children in three songs, "Duerna Pronto," "Chapaneques" and "Fray Philippe," after which Miss Janis Mehelic, physical education teacher, led the children in three Spanish dances, "Uno, Dos, Tres," "The Mexican Clap Dance" and "La Rapa."

Children participating in the program were Perry Bone, Jason Zingrich, Lena Glynn, Joanne Glynn, Toni Goforth, Candy Sanders, Herman Kovar, Gail Huffman, Shannon Springer.

PTA installs at Wilson

Ted Vrenick, principal of Wilson School, compared the work of the PTA to a pebble dropped in the middle of a pond during the installation of new PTA officers last week at the school.

"Just like waves created by the pebble keep moving out, PTA work can spread out into the community for the benefit of all children and youth," he told those gathered for the final meeting of the school year.

The officers installed by Vrenick were:

Bill Smithson, president;

Rebecca Chandler, vice president; Linda McGee, secretary; and Cathy Riverburgh, treasurer.

Mrs. Sylvia Woods, retiring secretary, read a letter from the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers announcing that Wilson PTA was named runner-up for the "Blue Ribbon Award."

The awards are bestowed annually upon PTA units whose activities are considered to have the most beneficial effect on the lives of children, the letter explained.

Wilson PTA was one of eight finalists throughout the state.

Delegates to the state PTA convention described their experiences, noting the principal topics explored at the four-day meeting were safety and health of children, foster parenting, legislation concerning schools and parental concern for educational programs.

Wilson PTA delegates were Smithson, Mrs. Riverburgh, Mrs. Woods and Mrs. McGee.

Smithson announced a Parenting Program will highlight the PTA's projects in the 1979-80 school year. The program primarily is designed to help parents better understand the feelings of children.

"Parenting is one profession that requires continuous learning and when it is fully learned, the parent finds he or she is unemployed," Smithson said.

In appreciation of their efforts in the past year, a potted plant was presented to Mrs. Woods and PTA pins were given to Mrs. Teresa Finn and Mrs. Chandler.

The group also heard an explanation of the PUPS program by Mrs. Jean Nelson of Granite City High School South, who said the acronym means "Parents Utilizing Pre-kindergarten Skills."

Mrs. Nelson said the program allows parents, high school students and pre-kindergarten pupils to work and share experiences together.

The group functions as a total learning unit through discussion, studying and explanation of activities around the development of a child.

Further information about the program may be obtained from Mrs. Nelson. Mrs. Louise Moad and the hospitality committee served refreshments.

Fire in a gasoline pump at the Fina service station, Nameoki and Johnson Roads, caused an estimated $50 damage last week. A leak in a pipe connection and faulty wiring in the pump combined to cause the blaze, firemen believe.

The Spinal Column

By
DR. RICHARD C. REINHARDT
A UNIQUE APPROACH TO HEALTH

Part 1

The key to health is total balance, both structurally and chemically. Part one deals with the structural aspect and part two, the chemical or nutritional aspect.

Your body is a finely tuned machine designed by a marvelous creator. You have the responsibility to see that it is properly maintained. If you do, fortunately the majority of people do not take proper care of their bodies. For example, we all know that a fall or accident can easily misalign our spinal column much the same way that a pothole can misalign the front end of an automobile. The end result is abnormal physical stress that will cause the lines to wear out quickly. A parallel holds true with your body. The abnormal stress on your spinal column causes early and premature degeneration of the tissues. Disc degeneration, herniation, arthritic calcium deposits, abnormal curvatures are but a few examples of what stress can do to the spinal column.

When the spinal column is under abnormal stress, so is the enclosed spinal cord and spinal nerves that control the direct activities throughout your entire body. As the nervous system begins to degenerate, we observe problems that appear to have no relationship to the spinal column such as constipation, difficult menses, indigestion, heart burn, nervousness, fatigue, numbness and tingling in the arms and legs, headaches, etc.

The central point is this. You can be healthy if you assume that responsibility. A spinal examination once a year by a competent Chiropractic Physician is essential. If you have had an accident or fall, then an immediate examination is important. An injured and misaligned spinal column can only become healthy after it is properly realigned and stabilized.

GC Business Women win awards

Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club won two first place state awards and garnered many other accolades at the 1979 convention of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women held at the Palmer House, Chicago.

The most prestigious awards were first place honors for public relations during 1978-79, involving clubs with more than 100 members, and a special award for best overall club public relations in the state; and first place in Foundation for "total involvement" and national and state awards for 100 percent contribution by each member to the state and national foundation programs.

Florence Moore, chairman of the Public Relations Committee, and Beverly Stone, Foundation Committee chairman, accepted the awards.

Other top awards attained by the local club included: National and state awards for achievement in program planning; Carolyn Frye and Rosalie Stern, chairmen; national award for equalizing membership by Sept. 30, 1978, and state award for the "greatest percentage of increase for clubs with over 75 members, Ruth Walk, chairman.

A state award for participation in the library program, Debbie Jolly, chairman; and a state award for legislative programming, Mildred Meehan, chairman.

In business sessions during the four-day convention, many issues were debated and various legislative proposals were recommended and adopted.

Specific issues the BPW members were urged to actively support include:

Ratification of the ERA Amendment; passage of legislation establishing and funding a commission to study the need for quality day care centers in Illinois; passage of legislation to expedite the settlement by the Fair Employment Practices Commission of cases involving discriminatory employment practices.

Passage of legislation to provide training and education for women returning to the work force; promotion of research, support of programs and active work for the passage of legislation for conservation, management and development of all available energy sources.

Other policy items voted BPW support were improved programs in such areas as:

Dixon, Percy fighting vast volume of auto 'chopping'

Automobiles are becoming mighty expensive to operate, what with the energy crunch and the upward spiral of gasoline costs. But passenger vehicles remain highly attractive to thieves, and both Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon and U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy are taking steps to curb the big volume of car thefts.

Dixon this month unveiled plans for a seven-state Midwest task force on auto theft prevention, affecting Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan. "First of its kind in the nation, the task force will not stress the actual mechanics of law enforcement but will coordinate and streamline enforcement efforts with the goal of reducing auto theft on a regional basis. It will include state and local law enforcement officials and representatives of private businesses.

He comments, "It makes no sense for us to succeed in Illinois with the prevention program we have successfully launched, only to have car thieves move into our border states. We want to drive the crooks out of our state, but we really haven't solved the problem if they operate with impunity on our borders and send stolen vehicles back into Illinois."

And Sen. Percy on Tuesday joined with Sen. Joseph Biden Jr. of Delaware in introducing legislation to curb the nation's surging, $4 billion a year car theft industry, which the Federal Bureau of Investigation regards as "one of the most lucrative illegitimate businesses today."

Percy notes, "An auto theft takes place in this country every 32 seconds; almost one million cars are stolen annually. This legislation provides law enforcement officials with the necessary tools to stem the tide of professional auto theft."

"At one time, auto theft was almost exclusively a teenage lark, resulting in nothing worse than a joyride. The recovery of the stolen car routinely occurred in a matter of days, if not hours."

"But now the joyride is over. Stolen cars are no longer regularly recovered."

Day college classes here can lower commuting costs

Belleville Area College comment — The BAC Board of Trustees has made a firm commitment to offer daytime courses in Granite City. Final negotiations for a site are in progress and schedules of classes are being planned.

Washington School is the probable site for the daytime center. Larry Schmalenberger, assistant dean of general studies and community services, has been named to direct the operation.

Two changes are anticipated in the evening extension program being offered here at present. Belleville Area College's Granite City extension evening program is the largest of the district's 22 extension schedules.

Schmalenberger says the daytime courses will be primarily college transfer and vocational-technical courses, all of which carry regular college credit.

The college is making an effort to bring its credit curricula into the Granite City area primarily because of rising costs of about half the education are rising, and students are having to bear a major portion of the increased costs. The BAC Board feels that if it can do something to alleviate some of the costs, then it must do so.

In population, Granite City is the largest city in Illinois Community College District 522 (BAC). In addition to that, it is closer for many students to drive from Collinsville, Caseyville, Madison, Venice and other nearby communities than it is for them to drive to the main campus, which is just outside of Belleville on Illinois 161.

Any student in the district will be allowed to enroll at the Granite City extension center at the same tuition and fees as Granite City students.

"We welcome all questions and suggestions as we set up this daytime extension," Schmalenberger says. "We are going to be working very closely with people in the local community to bring the courses that are most wanted here." Schmalenberger will be out of his office and in the community for much of his time during the next few weeks, but anyone who would like to reach him with suggestions for the Granite City center may call 876-3700, extension 289.

Pontoon Road, for construction of a Happy Joe's fast food restaurant in a residentially-zoned area. For the convenience of the nearby residents, Mayor Paul Schuler asked that on-site public hearings be held, which took place Thursday afternoon, May 17. Petitions listing 261 names of persons opposed to commercialization of Marvyn Road were presented to the Plan Commission at the hearing.

Those petitions were given to the city council by an Alderman Paul Ray Bowler of the Seventh Ward after the council unanimously voted to deny the commercial zoning. Bowler had spoken in favor of the area residents during the Plan Commission hearings.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Josephine (Mueller) Reszely; his daughter, Mrs. Robert (Betty) Hiller of Collinsville, and two grandchildren.

Sewer grant approved for Reta and Blue Spruce Ct.

The Madison County special sewer committee has received approval of a 75 percent grant from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to extend the sanitary sewers now under construction to serve Reta Drive and Blue Spruce Court.

The two streets were left out of the original sewer plans because project engineer Ed Juneau said they had not been adequately developed by the time the plans were approved by the state.

Members of the committee said during last night's committee meeting that they are hopeful the contingency fund for the construction project will be adequate to pay the 25 percent local share of the cost of sewers for Reta Drive and Blue Spruce Court.

In other business, the committee studied the rough draft of an ordinance which would control the construction of sanitary sewers in subdivisions, which will link into the new sewers. The proposed ordinance has come under fire by some developers, who contend the committee wants to force them to use a specific engineer for the private sewers, rather than hiring the engineers of their choosing.

The rough draft does include a provision that approval of subdivision sewers and sewer extensions and cost estimates be approved "by a firm of the committee choosing."

However, Harry Hartman, attorney for the sewer committee, was asked at the meeting to change the wording of the ordinance, giving the county board control of the sewer program, rather than the sewer committee. The ordinance must be approved by the county board, when it is completed, it was noted.

About 12 Old Alton Road residents were at the meeting, protesting the poor condition of the road, due to sewer construction. Juneau said he will investigate complaints and attempt to resolve the problem.

Sewer break blocks Faith

A major sewer break that caused an extensive break in the pavement of Faith Avenue between Buxton and Myrtle avenues resulted early today in the closing of Faith Avenue between Buxton and Marshall avenues.

Street Supt. Lionel Portell said the break is one of the most severe encountered in recent years and that bypass pumping operations were set up shortly after the break was discovered Wednesday.

A complete replacement of that section of the sanitary sewer will be necessary, Portell said.

By-pass pumping of the new break is between Buxton and Myrtle avenues, he said.

Wilson Park pool to open Saturday

The Wilson Park swimming pool will open its season at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 26.

Admission for children holding a park ID card will be 65 cents and for adults with an ID card the fee will be $1.15. Those children not having a card will pay a fee of $1.25 and adults will be charged $1.75.

Daily hours for the pool will be from 1 to 6 p.m. with new special swimming sessions for park district residents on various nights. Family night will be on Tuesdays from 6 to 9 p.m. with a fee of $1.15 for the entire family.

Adult night will be on Thursdays from 8:30 to 10 p.m. for those persons 18 years of age and older. Friday night has been designated as Teen Night with hours being from 8:30 to 10 p.m. for those between the ages of 13 to 19 with the same 65 cent charge as for adults.

Senior citizens (55 years or older) can swim free Monday through Friday.

There is no age limit for the birthday party plan but a limit of 30 swimmers has been established with a fee of $1 for each additional swimmer being charged.

A modified boost in vehicle license charges also was voted.

The State Senate on a preliminary vote approved a 1-cent per gallon gasoline tax hike, 3-2, of the raise sought by the governor to help repair deteriorating highways and bridges.

A special surprise guest will be used to reenactments of Bible characters, quoting from various Bible authors at the City Temple, 4751 Marvyn Road, at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Costuming and special lighting will be used to make the presentation more realistic.

Rev. A. E. Cope is pastor.

Ample gasoline supplies are being forecast in this region for the Memorial Day holiday, but about half of the highway stations may be open, and most of them will close by 8 p.m. or earlier.

Anti-rabies shots are planned for dogs and cats from 5:30 to 7 p.m. today at the Long Lake fire hall.

Alex Reszely, 76, of 304 Pine Lake Road, Collinsville, a former Granite City resident, died at 8:40 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Mr. Reszely resided here 59 years, moving only recently to Collinsville to live with his daughter. He was employed 30 years as a welder at the General Steel Castings Division.

He was a member of St. Margaret-Mary Catholic Church and of the GBU Fraternal Union.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Josephine (Mueller) Reszely; his daughter, Mrs. Robert (Betty) Hiller of Collinsville, and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

Autumn decision on plant

A six-month delay in decisions on new Japanese industrial plants in the U.S. is likely, Illinois Gov. James R. Thompson said Wednesday.

Some of the local members of the trade delegation returned to the U.S. with him and others are due back during the weekend.

The prospect of a Datsun auto plant in the local community was among the topics discussed during the trip, which was made in response to an invitation from Japanese officials.

Business income tax may rise

The Illinois House late last night voted favorably on a bill by Rep. Jim McPike of this district on replacing the outdated corporate personal property tax.

It is proposed to increase the income tax on business firms, partnerships and trusts, as well as to tax funds invested by utilities.

Voted down was a rival bill that was called too favorable to industries and also $100 million short of the more than half-billion dollars needed to replace the personal tax.

The State Senate on a preliminary vote approved a 1-cent per gallon gasoline tax hike, 3-2, of the raise sought by the governor to help repair deteriorating highways and bridges.

Park budget down

The Granite City Park Board last night approved a tentative budget for the 1979-80 fiscal year of $726,481.

This is a decrease from last year's proposed spending of $794,822. Last year's budget was $731,423.

Also approved during the meeting was the treasurer's annual report submitted by board treasurer John Mink.

Interest earned on investments totaling $15,315 was allocated to various general fund accounts. One change in baseball rules was approved by the board and a girls' 4A softball team was allowed to drop out of this year's competition due to scheduling conflicts prior to the opening of the season.

A tentative hearing on the tentative budget has been set for June 13 at 6:30 p.m. prior to the regular meeting of the board at 7.

Venice rescinds notices

The Venice Board of Education rescinded honorable dismissal notices issued to Venice faculty members at its meeting last night.

A total of 43 notices were sent in March to members of the faculty with 15 years or less seniority. Those rescinded were based on seniority.

Jack Tolliver, board president, said the possibility exists that more dismissal notices could be rescinded. The board's next meeting, but this will depend on the district hearing whether or not its Title VII lawsuit is restored.

That funding also will be available to continue operations at the Venice Technical Center.

Later in the meeting, Duane Rankin, administrator at the adult center, said legislation pertaining to funding the school has to be signed by Gov. James Thompson by July 12.

Unofficially, it appears funds will be available for next year's operations, but they probably will be cut by 20 percent, he told the board.

GC Lions bike-a-thon to aid children

By VALERIE EVENDEN

If there appears to be more adult bicycle traffic on streets and roads around Granite City in the next few weeks, motorists should try to be tolerant—it's all in a good cause.

The riders, who may not have the expertise of veteran bicyclists, are in training for the Granite City Lions Club's annual "Bike-A-Thon" to aid blind, deaf and visually and hearing impaired children attend summer camp.

Elmer L. Wortham, Lions project chairman, said the local club's bike-a-thon will take place Saturday, June 9. The route will not take the riders into the busy flow of major traffic, but will give the enthusiastic participants a full 15-mile workout, he explained.

The bike-a-thon will start from the Mitchell Athletic Club grounds, proceed east to Fosg Road and along Fosg to Edwardsville, a distance of seven-and-a-half miles.

The cyclists will turn around and ride back to Mitchell to complete the 15-mile course, Wortham said. Jack Hill, president of the Granite City Lions, said the club is hoping to raise a total of $3,000 from the bike-a-thon.

Contributions to the project are derived by each club member soliciting pledges from friends, neighbors and business associates, not to mention his own relatives, Wortham explained.

Those making pledges agree to pay a certain amount of cash per mile to the individual Lion he is sponsoring, with the total contribution depending on the distance covered by the bicyclist.

Any amount of money can be pledged per mile and the number of sponsors each club member secures also is not limited, Wortham said.

If the $3,000 goal is reached, it is hoped that 10 handicapped youngsters can attend the summer camp.

In addition to Hill and Wortham, also planning to ride in the bike-a-thon are Lions George Andres, club treasurer, Robert Franck, secretary, and Ted Barr, assistant secretary.

Wortham, auditor at First Granite City National Bank, also serves as vice president of the Lions Club.

The children attending summer camp are all blind-physically handicapped or deaf-hearing impaired boys and girls, between the ages of 8 and 18.

Youngsters from this region of Illinois will attend Camp Lions Little Giant, near Carbondale.

The camp, opened only in 1978, is located at Southern Illinois University's Touch of Nature Environmental Center, about 10 miles from Carbondale on the shores of Little Grass Lake.

The Illinois Lions also operate Camp Lions Ravenswood at Lake Villa, north of Chicago, a camp they established in 1957.

Little Giant Camp grew from the success at Ravenswood, Wortham said. The camp near Carbondale occupies 80 acres of the 6,500-acre Touch of Nature Center.

There are 16 cabins, each housing six to eight campers and two counselors, and two dormitories housing 36 children each.

Other structures include a dining hall, chapel, craft area, boys' and girls' shower facilities, library, education building, an Indian center and a dispensary.

Campers also have the use of a beach on Little Grass Lake, as well as canoes and a pontoon boat.

Camp Lions Little Giant is staffed and directed by SIU. The staff consists of a director of the handicapped program, camp director, a program coordinator, three registered nurses and between 40 and 50 counselors.

Each counselor is selected for his or her expertise, experience and ability to deal with handicapped children.

Many are SIU students majoring in the field of special education, the project chairman explained.

One week before the children arrive at the campsite the counselors must participate in a rigorous training program to acquaint them with the special needs of the handicapped child.

"The sky's the limit, as far as programs are concerned at the camp," Wortham said. Educational, creative and recreational activities are all offered, each modified to include the participation of a blind or deaf child and planned for the most enjoyment and personal growth.

Campers can learn to swim, play softball with a special "beeper" ball, sing their way through a hayride, pretend to be a cowboy on horseback, glide over the waters in a canoe, ride on an inner tube, or even go rock climbing and rappelling.

Special events include an Indian Pow Wow, Disco Night and Gong Show.

Babbling brooks, picturesque ponds, forest and meadows meander through the Touch of Nature Center, enabling the children to discover the world around them through nature hikes, gardening, animal observation, flag signaling, Morse code and outdoor cooking and some by using maps and compasses.

There are also obstacle courses which the campers create themselves.

Crafts and ecological art projects are other creative aspects of the program.

"It is a great program for the children and we hope all will support the efforts of the club and help make the 1979 bike-a-thon a success," Wortham concluded.

Raise in veterans' pensions

The first cost-of-living increase in Social Security payments since passage of last year's Veterans Administration pension reform bill will affect more than 2.5 million VA pensioners in a variety of ways.

VA officials said the increase will bring a 9.9 percent boost in monthly payments for 100,000 veterans and their beneficiaries enrolled under the new pension plan. For those who chose to remain under the old pension plan, there is an upward adjustment in the income limitation ceiling.

Congress last year linked VA pensions to Social Security cost-of-living hikes when it enacted a new VA pension program that gave pension recipients a choice of converting or remaining under the existing plan.

VA officials say almost 400,000 applications have been received for conversion to the new pension program and that another 200,000 are expected before the end of 1979.

While the new program offers higher pension rates than the old one, all income of a veteran and his dependents is counted in calculating his pension.

Under the old plan, pension rates are lower but certain income is excluded. The 9.9 percent increase for new program pension recipients means that a single veteran with no income will receive $2,615, up from the current $2,392.

A surviving spouse with no dependent children or income will receive $2,615, up from the current $2,379.

A surviving spouse with one dependent child now receives up to $3,116 and will get $3,425 under the increased rates.

When the surviving spouse of a veteran is not eligible for VA pension, or if the child is an orphan, the child's rate is $600 a year. VA officials have renewed their suggestion that veterans or their beneficiaries wishing full information on the pension choices open to them, contact the nearest VA office or consult a service officer of one of the national veterans' organizations in their home community.

The increase in pension benefits is effective June 1. It will be reflected in the July pension checks.

PROGRAMMER AWARD TO MARTHA MUELLER Belleville Area College's Career Business Division has announced outstanding student awards for 1979.

Awards were based on grades, attitude, leadership, initiative and responsibility.

Included are Computer Programmer Awards to Donna Landmann, a resident of Highland, who attended St. Paul High School, and to Martha Mueller, who attended Madison High School in Madison.

Miss Mueller now lives in East St. Louis.

House votes tax deposits at loan firms

The Illinois House of Representatives has approved House Bill 676 sponsored by Rep. Sam Wolf (Granite City) that would allow township collectors, with the approval of the Town Board, to deposit funds collected by the township collector in savings and loan associations.

"This measure is strictly permissive legislation and not in any way mandatory," Wolf said. "Until now, monies collected by the township collector have been deposited only in commercial banks."

"Some reservations had been advanced that problems might exist due to a 30-day withdrawal notification required by savings and loans. However, it was pointed out that even though this clause does exist, it is rarely used."

The bill will now go to the Senate.

Artwork for District 11

Belleville Area College art instructor Dale Threlkeld has been named to represent the Illinois State Museum on the governor's Fine Arts Review Committee.

The committee was established to review and select works of art suitable to the design of the structure and acceptable to the community where public buildings are being constructed.

The Capital Development Board Act gave statutory authority for the CDB to set aside for art one-half of one percent of the amount authorized for construction or reconstruction of each public building.

The specific project which Threlkeld will review is an addition to the headquarters of District 11, Department of Law Enforcement, at Maryville.

He was named to the project by Sen. Bruce McMillan, director of the Illinois State Museum.

MADISON MAN HURT James Hill, 29, of 2061 Rhodes St., Madison, suffered pain to his left side and his back in an auto accident early this week and was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Trailrider wins 4 trophies in show

Don James Jr., riding Jessie, captured first-place trophies in four events at the Trailriders Saddle Club's fun show held this week at the club arena on Chouteau Slough Road at Rock Road, near the Chain of Rocks Canal levee.

James won top honors in the junior poles, junior barrels, open flag race and junior plug race events.

He is the first club member to take four wins in a single show in the 1979 riding season.

The Trailriders are planning a camping trip and trail ride during the Memorial Day weekend at Greenfielders ranch, near Six Flags Over Mid-America, at Pacific, Mo.

All club members and friends are invited to participate in the annual camping trip, which starts Friday, according to Kathy Bargiel, secretary.

Two young women were triple winners in this week's show. Receiving three trophies were:

Tina Hermann riding Starbuck in the pony poles, pony pleasure and pony barrels; and Vickie Brooks on Paul's Kickapoo in the open bareback pleasure, ladies western pleasure and open western pleasure events.

Double winners were: Nancy Dawson on Billy in haltering (stallions) and senior barrels events; Bill Schneidewind on Tennessee Buck, gaited country pleasure and fox trotting; and Dennis Hudson on Yogi Bear, senior poles and senior plug race.

Attaining first-place trophies for single event victories were:

Kathy Reuter showing Hank Five in haltering (geldings); Patricia Bryarly showing Ima Tuff Wampy in haltering (mares); Jeff Brooks on Paul's Kickapoo, junior western pleasure; Kathy Bargiel on Rex, ladies gaited country pleasure; and Gene Carter on Paul's Kickapoo, men's western pleasure.

The public is invited to attend the Trailriders' next competitive event—a fun show—set Sunday, June 3, starting at 1 p.m. at the club arena.

CHARLESTON — Madison will be one of the top contenders for the 1979 Illinois State High School Association Class A (small school) track championship when the 85th State Meet is held this Friday and Saturday at O'Brien Field on the campus of eastern Illinois University.

Preliminaries in 17 of the 18 events (excluding the two-mile run) will be conducted Friday beginning at 9 a.m. The finals in all events will be conducted Saturday. Field events in both classes of competition (Class A for schools with enrollments of 750 or less and Class AA for schools with enrollments of 751 or more) will get under way Saturday at 10 a.m. The first running event final is scheduled to begin at 12:15 p.m. Tickets for each session are priced at $2 and will be on sale at the O'Brien Stadium ticket windows.

Madison qualified seven individual athletes and four relay teams last Saturday at the Red Bud District Meet. In the Class AA (large school) meet, held at the same time here, Granite City South and North will each be represented by one athlete. South's representative will be miler David Houston, winner at the Belleville East District. North's will be Aaron Hickam, second-place finisher in the 880 yard run at East.

Five teams appear to be in the hunt for the Class AA team title, won or shared the past four years by East St. Louis (Sr.). The Flyers have advanced 11 individuals and all four relay teams. Other contenders appear to be Maywood (Proviso East) at 12 individuals and 3 relays; Palatine ( Fremd ) at 12 and 4; Evanston (Twp.) at 11 and 4; Dolton (Thornridge) at 10 and 3; and East St. Louis (Lincoln) at 10 and 4.

In Class A, the troops from Chicago (Luther South) lead the way in qualifiers with 10 individuals and a pair of relays. Among the others with large contingents are Aurora (Central Catholic) with 7 individuals and all four relays; Madison at 7 and 4; Forreston at 7 and 3; (Continued on Page 29)

Steptoe sees Davenport and relays as keys to winning

MADISON — Charles Steptoe was watching as his Madison High track athletes were tuning up for this weekend's IHSA State Meet. His thoughts and expectations were the same as they were at the beginning of the season.

"I still believe that Earnest (Davenport) is the key to our chances at winning the state championship," he said. "We were depending on the relays to get us inside and mount up some points. But it will probably come down to how we use Earnest that will determine our chances."

Steptoe said he was encouraged by Davenport's performance in the 220 yard dash at the District meet Saturday in Red Bud. "He really hadn't run it in about two weeks," he said. "His time of 49 seconds was the first time this season he's been under 50."

"I thought he might be able to get down to around 47, but I can't complain at all." As far as the competition this weekend at the state meet in Charleston, Steptoe said he is expecting strong challenges from traditional standouts Walther Lutheran, St. Anne and Gibson City. "They're always up there," he said. "We expect them to be again this year."

Steptoe has even set a goal of how many points he thinks could win the team championship for Madison. "The way I figure it," he said, "we could possibly finish with about 45 points. I'm hoping that'll be good enough to win it. I'd only took 35 last season."

Last season, Robinson won finishing second. Robinson isn't expected to be a championship contender this year. The Madison coach said he hopes his squad can capture at least two out of the four relay events and get a second in the others.

As far as being where he wants to be at the point, Steptoe said, "We were fortunate early in the season, we came off a good indoor program and were able to run five out of six events scheduled in March. "But there was a cold snap in April that began at the Granite City Invitational that really got us down — mentally and physically." It's just now getting back into the right frame of mind, even though there are a few injuries on the team. "James Heard has a sore knee," he said. "Raymond Price has been bothered by asthma and Davenport has a slight muscle pull in his calf. But none of them are real serious."

State tennis meet to start

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — Defending champion Hinsdale (Central) will be out to claim either outright or share its eighth straight title in the 44th annual Illinois High School Association (IHSA) Boys State Tennis Tournament this weekend here.

Granite City South's doubles team of Terry Malench and Ed Schmalbach qualified for the state tournament by finishing second in Saturday's South District Meet. Coach Jay Kramer's Red Devils, who have won each team title outright since 1972, except for a tie with Highland Park in 1973, won their own district with 15.5 points and advanced standouts Tres Cushing in singles, and a pair of doubles tandem consisting of Bill Alex and Joe Leininger as one team and Mike Iverson and Adam Pickett as the other. Competition gets under way today with the first two rounds of championship play in both singles and doubles, and the first round of consolation bracket play.

ALTON — The Alton dugout was silent, dumbfounded and shocked. The players sat on the bench and stared in disbelief at what was taking place on the field in front of them. What was taking place was a celebration the likes of which are usually reserved for after the final out is made in a World Series game, or a state championship game — or a regional championship game.

The latter was the case here Monday when Granite City North pitcher Greg Faulkner got Alton's Greg Sabo to ground out, ending the game and giving North an 8-0 victory and its first IHSA Regional championship ever. Faulkner pitched a two-hitter in the process.

The victory by North sends it into the Springfield Class AA Sectional this Saturday against Springfield Senior High, a 15-3 winner over Springfield Griffin in the LaPlante Regional.

"I'm more amazed every game by these guys," said North Coach Bob Stegemeier. "I'm super-proud of the effort we put forth today." It could just have been our best-all around performance of the season."

By the time that game-ending play rolled around, the outcome was a foregone conclusion. From the first inning on, Faulkner and teammates had Alton's Redbirds eating birdseed out of their hands.

The Steelers — just as they had done to their two previous regional foes — exploded for a big lead in the first inning. Ten North batters came to the plate in the first, scoring five runs on four base hits. The big blow was a two-run double by Bob Ford.

Alton was lucky to get out of that first inning with no more than the five runs scored against it. The Steelers had crossed the plate with all their runs before a single out had been made.

Trojans second in meet

CARBONDALE — Even though the Madison boys track team won the Class A (small school) championship here Monday at the Meet of Champions, Coach Charles Steptoe was disappointed.

Madison ran away from the field in the small school division, but finished second overall to Class AA Carbondale in the final meet standings at Bleyer Field. "I had hoped we do better," said Steptoe. "We didn't get all our people in the 100 yard dash and that hurt." Madison was also hurt by the fact that it had to compete in its IHSA District meet Saturday, while Carbondale had its Friday, giving the Terriers and extra day of rest.

But disappointment aside, Steptoe had to be pleased with the effort of star sprinter Earnest Davenport. He won both the 220 and 440 yard dashes — two events he is entered in at this weekend's state track meet. Madison's 440 yard relay team — also going to state — won its event and set a meet record in the process. James Heard, Sylvester Collins, Davenport and Marcus White teamed up for a time of 43.91 seconds, beating Sparta's 1977 mark of 44.30.

The Madison mile relay team finished second in a 3:31.04. Members of that team were Mike Ellis, Heard, Carlyn Jackson and White. Carbondale won it in 3:30.5. The Madison 880 relay team finished third in 1:32.7. Members are Troy Butler, Collins, Heard and White. Centralia was first (1:32.8) and Carbondale was second (1:32.62).

Collins was third in the long jump with his leap of 19 feet, 8 1/2 inches. Tony Mayes was third in the 880 (2:03.8), while Alvin Bankhead was sixth (2:05.0).

Fourth place finishes were earned for Madison by Collins in the 220 (23.3), Butler in the triple jump (40 2 1/2), and Ellis in the 330 yard low hurdles (40.07).

On to Springfield

ALTON — For the Granite City North baseball team, it's been a golden year. You see, it won its very first trophy ever in Alton Monday when it beat the host Redbirds 8-0 for the IHSA Class AA Regional championship. But the Steelers are hoping it isn't that last bit of hardware they win this season. They will face Springfield Senior this Saturday in Springfield in the first round of the Class AA Sectional Tournament. If they win, they'll return again Monday to play in the championship game. From there, it's a trip to the state finals.

Houston, Hickam are ready for state meet

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — It's surprising how the difference of only one grade level can make for two markedly different attitudes.

For all the similarities between Dave Houston and Aaron Hickam it would be expected that their expectations on the eve of the Illinois State High School Tract Tournament would be almost identical.

Both are representing their high school's single-handed at the State Track tournament—Houston from South, and Hickam from North. Both are distance runners (as opposed to sprint men or field competitors) Houston in the mile, and Hickam in the 880. Both have had state tournament experience—Houston in the state cross-country tournament this year, and Hickam in the state track tournament last year.

HICKAM

But Houston is a junior, and Hickam is a senior. "I'm pretty worried about it (the tournament)," Hickam said. "In the back of your mind you always wonder if you can do it. And

CONTOUR ANALYSIS EXAMINATION FOR VICTIMS OF CHRONIC OR ACUTE PAIN

A free Contour Analysis examination is being offered for people with acute or chronic pain by the chiropractic offices listed below. People who suffer with backache, bursitis, arthritis, neuralgia, nerve pain, neck pain, muscle pain, bone pain, etc., are invited to receive this free examination.

Contour Analysis enables taking a three-dimensional picture (called Mairé photography) of the topography of the surface of the spine to detect spinal stress deviations. This analysis will be correlated with leg deficiency, patient symptomatology, and levels of spinal tenderness. An analysis of this type can reveal such things as normal and abnormal stress patterns, apical curvature, muscle spasms, muscle imbalance, spinal distortion, and scoliosis.

This analysis, including consultation with the doctor is being offered to the public at no charge. Anyone wishing to receive this free examination may telephone Dr. Reinhardt's office directly for information or an appointment.

Outlaws make 1st appearance here

By JEFF EAVES for the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The World of Outlaws (WOO) made its inaugural visit to the Tri-City Speedway with a total of 37 of the nation's top sprint car drivers here Wednesday night.

Current WOO point leader Ron Shuman of Mesa, Ariz., who started on the first row inside looked like he was well on his way to pick up the checkered flag in the 40-lap feature but it was not to be. Sixth row starter and defending WOO champion Steve Kinser of Bloomington, Ind., overtook Shuman on the 27th lap to win his fifth WOO point race and also collected $2,000 in doing so.
Kinser, who was battling for second with Sammy Swindell of Memphis, Tenn., did some mighty fine driving in his Kinser Bros. No. 11 sprinter.
At the finish of the 40-lap race was Kinser, Ron Shuman was second in his Auto Shack Chevy, Swindell in his Federal Express Chevy, Larry Gates of Evansville, Ind., driving the Stadium Motors Chevy, Kenny Schrader of Baldwin, Mo., in the McDaniel Const.

Chevy, Bobby Allen of Hanover, Pa., in his own Chevy, Rick Ferkel of Findlay, Ohio in the Kears Speed Shop Chevy, Carson of Oklahoma City, Okla., in the Speedway Motors Sprinter, Roger Rager of Mound, Minn., in his own Chevy, and Dub May of Hanover, Pa., in the Kenny Rogers-C. K. Spurlock Chevy.

The first heat was taken by Ron Shuman, followed by Larry Gates, Doug Wolfgang of Lincoln, Neb., Kerry Norris of Columbus, Ind., and Roger Rager.
The second heat was won by Sammy Swindell who was followed by Shane Carson, Cliff Cockrum of Benton, Ill., Ron Milton of Jacksonville, Ill., and Arnie Knepper of Belleville, Ill.
Rick Ferkel won the third heat over Bobby Allen, Kenny Schrader, Eddie Leavitt of Kearney, Mo., and Lee James of Northridge, Calif.
The fourth heat was won by Dub May followed by Lealand McSpadden of Tempe, Ariz., Steve Kinser, Ronnie Daniels of Memphis, Tenn., and Bill Robinson of Topeka, Kan.
Rick Ferkel picked up an extra $100 from Busch Beer and qualifying himself to run in the "Busch Bash," a $10,000 to win race at the Eldora Speedway in Rossburg, Ohio on Oct. 27, by winning the fast six lap trophy dash as he defeated the top four drivers of the night. Finishing second was Dub May followed by Ron Shuman, and Sammy Swindell.

The 15-lap B feature was marred by a red flag on the second lap.
Dean Adams of Farmington, Mo., lost control of his car and hit the outside retaining wall in the front shoot. Adams was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by the Wood River Township volunteer emergency crew complaining of a headache.
The winner of the B feature was Lee James of Northridge, Calif. James was followed by Roger Rager, Bill Robinson, Steve Smith of Hanover, Pa., Jerry Stone of Wichita, Kan., and Chuck Amati of Freeman Spur, Ill.

North

North shortstop Bud Bates walked to lead off the inning. He went to third on a single by Jeff Stamper and scored when Tom Greco smacked a single up the middle. Steeler catcher Dick Awall then singled, driving in Stamper. Then came Ford's blow.
The final run was scored when Ford, who had gone to third on a passed ball, scored on a perfectly-executed squeeze-play bunt by Larry Burns.
Greco had a field day for North at the plate. He went three-for-four after leading into the game with a 420 average.
"We did an awful lot of things right today," said Stegmeyer. "Not only at the plate, but on the bases and in the field, too."
The only hits for Alton were harmless. Redbird Robert Hopkins got a bunt single in the first inning and catcher Jay Sabo singled in the fourth.
"Faulkner pitched a super game today," said Stegmeyer. "We've really been high on him lately. He came into this game pitching 12- and one-third scoreless innings."
Another thing Stegmeyer was happy about was the fact that Faulkner was able to go the distance on the mound, allowing North's relievers to get some rest.
"We've been going to our bullpen quite a bit," he said. "Steve Doty pitched five innings here Saturday (against Edwardsville), and was ready to do the same again today. But with the extra rest, he'll be sharper next time out."

That next time out for Doty will probably be against Springfield Saturday, even though Stegmeyer wouldn't say who will start for North in the Sectional.

North added a single run in the sixth inning and two more in the seventh. In the sixth, Burns walked leading off to second and third on ground-outs, and scored on designated-hitter Tony Pierce's double to left-centerfield.

In the seventh, Greco singled leading off and Awall was hit by a pitch from Alton reliever Mike Davidson. Ford walked to lead the bases. Burns then smacked a sacrifice fly to centerfield scoring Greco. Robertson followed with a bunt, which drove in Awall.

Alton ended its season at 12-8, while North upped its mark to 18-6. "I think we've got the talent to go to Peoria (site of the state finals)," said Stegmeyer. "But I also know we've got to win some ball games to do it."

"Many times the best team in a tournament will get beat in the first game. It takes a lot of luck."
North had enough luck — TOO much for Alton — Monday.

Go!

Rushville at 7 and 2; and Princeton at 6 and 3.
Madison's Earnest Davidson, one of six returning individual champs in Class A ranks. Last season, he was the state 440 yard champ.

Davenport clocked in tied for the third-best time in the 44 among district qualifiers. His 200 yard dash was matched by Merrill Kraye of Forrester. Kevin Kramer of Erie had a 50.1 to lead the pack.

Davenport also qualified in the 220 yard dash. His time of 2:26 was matched by two others for the second-fastest among qualifiers. Greg Goddard of Washburn had the fastest time at 2:24.

Madison's strength — the relays — is evident when one looks at other state qualifying teams. The Trojans have the fastest times in the state in three of the four relay events.

In the 440 yard relay, Madison's 43.1 leads second place Walther Lutheran (43.8). In the 880 r. relay, Madison has a time of 1:31.6, compared to Walther Lutheran's 1:32.6. In the two mile relay, the Trojans have a district qualifying mark of 8:11.9, way ahead of second place Winnebago at 8:14.4.

In the mile relay, Madison had a district time of 3:30.2, good enough for the fifth fastest time.
Scoring is through the first eight places at 10 for 1st, 8 for 2nd, 6 for 3rd, 5 for 4th, 4 for 5th, 3 for 6th, 2 for 7th and 1 for 8th.

Houston

then there's more pressure when you figure that he may be the last race you'll ever run."
Houston on the other hand, is less concerned. For him there is still next year. "I just look at it as a chance to get my time down," he said. "I think it will be great experience for next year. I'm not expected to do a lot, but with all those good people up there I'm bound to do better."

Hickam said his main concern was qualifying for the finals, because before he can place in the meet he must naturally be in the running. "If I make it to the finals, I think I can place," he said. "But there are a lot of good people up there."

Hickam's best time this year came in the district meet, where he ran the 880 in 1:50.85. He figures to qualify for the finals at Champaign he'll have to improve that time, his best ever, to at least a 1:30.6.

"I'll just have to go out and compete, and make it my best ever," Hickam said. Houston's attitude is less final. "This will be the biggest race I've ever run," he said. "I'm really glad to be going up there, but I'm going up to run the best race I can."

Houston's best time this year was at the Springfield Invitational Tournament, where he ran the mile in 4:32. Before that race his times were in the 4:40 to 4:30 range. Then in one week, he dropped almost 11 seconds from his time.

It came just a week before the district meet. "I began to work on speed intervals," Houston said. "And my kick really improved. The change in the workout and my confidence in my kick made the difference."

At Champaign, Houston wants to cut even more from his time; down somewhere to the 4:20's.

Both Hickam and Houston will be making the trip to state alone. Hickam went last year in the two-mile relay. "I'm the only one running in the race this year," Hickam said. "Last year, I had three other guys to help. I feel the pressure. I don't think you ever get used to it."

Houston too will miss the presence of his teammates. "I've been running with Dave Taylor all year long. He missed qualifying for state by one or two seconds. We've been running together since I was a freshman, but his time was just a little slow. And he's a senior so it's pretty disappointing," Houston said.

Panels reviewing work of agencies, find many services

The Tri-Cities Area United Way agency beneficiary survey completed for the 1978 calendar year gives high marks to the agencies. Collectively, TCAUW-supported agencies served 51,376 Madison County people working or living in the communities of Venice, Pontoon Beach, Mitchell, Madison and Granite City.

Budget Allocations Chairman Paul F. Sodko has reported.

The reports on TCAUW

agencies cover a full year's activity, and represent the impact of the human service programs have on the lives of local people and families," Sodko said. "Next year, we expect to be able to report even greater and broader service delivery activity, as several TCAUW agencies are now developing systems to report on a uniform Program and Service accounting basis," Sodko said.

The 1979 United Way budget allocations panel leaders are: Panel A, Larry Rose; Panel B, Stanley Banaszak; Panel C, Charles Wilcox; Panel D, Neil Klonard; Panel E, Ed Eremowicz; Panel F, George Moore; and Panel G, Mary Jessee.

Each panel will review the budgets and programs of currently funded United Way agencies and complete reports and funding recommendations for subsequent action by the Tri-Cities Area United Way board of directors.

The United Way system of budget review offers a unique form of validating community service funding needs for United Way agencies.

"The UW system provides for an independent citizen volunteer review process which, when linked with the certification of funding needs by TCAUW local agency volunteer boards and committees, provides assurance to United Way givers."

"They are assured that allocation of their contributions is made on a needs basis, and that there is a well-conceived and effective community program," Sodko commented.

"Members of the United Way Budget Allocations Committee are specifically charged with the responsibility of becoming informed volunteers."

"They operate on the premise that overall community needs and objectives should guide the interest of all, and transcend the interest of any single person or agency."

A complementary United Way service statistics folder, by communities, will be available at the United Way office shortly.

A copy may be obtained by calling 877-6780 or picking up a copy at the United Way, 2021 Edison Ave., Granite City, or 408 Madison Ave., Madison. Citizens may ask for "The United Way Programs" folder.

HIGH HONOR is accorded the Ainal Temple Shrine Oriental Band, recipient of second place in the "big band"

Oriental band 2nd in Canadian jamboree

Twenty-six members of the Ainal Temple Shrine Oriental Band attended the Great Lakes Association of Shrine Oriental Bands Jamboree May 18, 19 and 20 at Windsor, Canada. The band was accompanied by Past Potentate Harold Manie of Belleville.

The Ainal group completed in the large band category for the first time since its organization in 1967. When the scores were totaled, the local musicians had captured second place, outscored only by the Zenobia Oriental Band from Toledo, Ohio.

The band competed in the small band group in 1970, moving up to the medium size in 1976 and the large category this year.

The jamboree was hosted by Mocha Shrine Temple of London, Ontario, Canada. The Great Lakes Shrine Association is made up of 22 Shrine temples located in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and the province of Ontario, Canada. The Masonic group supports 23 hospitals for children with an annual budget of over $50 million. The local Oriental Band will be in the annual Shrine circus parades in Belleville on June 1 and in Granite City on June 5.

Smith agrees to settle suits in heater case

Officials of A. O. Smith Corporation have announced that the company has agreed, subject to various conditions — including, among others, class certification and the finalization of an agreement subject to court approval — to settle for approximately $6,350,000 the class action claims made against it.

The claims arose out of a federal charge of price fixing in the water heater industry and were filed mainly in the Federal District Court in Philadelphia.

In a separate action April 30, the court fined A. O. Smith $350,000 as a result of its March 9 plea of "no contest" to the price fixing charges.

The settlement, fine, legal and related costs will result in an extraordinary charge against second quarter 1979 earnings of approximately $1.22 per share.

The company emphasized that, in its opinion, the alleged civil claims against it are without merit. The settlement, approved by the board of directors, was reached on the basis of business and economic considerations, including the extensive costs associated with long-term litigation.

"Although there has been no judicial determination as yet that the class action claims proceed on that basis, these types of actions create substantial financial exposure. In view of these factors, the company believes the settlement will be advantageous from a business and economic viewpoint," a spokesman said.

"These claims were initially filed after a federal grand jury in Philadelphia investigating companies manufacturing water heaters returned an indictment alleging violations of the antitrust laws against certain water heater manufacturers, various employees of these companies, and an employee of one supplier to these companies. No individual employee of A. O. Smith was charged."

THEFT FROM YARD

Patio furniture valued at about $357 was stolen from the yard at the home of Vera Sengle, 3157 Maryville Road, early this week. Taken were a barbecue grill, four chaise lounge chairs, and a redwood chair and table with an umbrella. The victim said the items were too heavy to be lifted by one person and a truck or a van would have been required to remove them.

Intensive German Language Institute

High school and college students as well as others who want to learn German quickly are being invited to enroll in a "total immersion" Summer German Language Institute sponsored by the Washington University for four weeks (June 17 to July 14).

The Institute, organized in cooperation with the Embassy of the Federal Republic of Germany, will be held at the university's Conference Center at Brookwoods located in the Ozark foothills.

The program (all of it in German) requires participants to be in residence. It includes four hours of German classes per day, supplemented by films, brochures, workshops, audio-visual presentations and special language and cultural projects.

Up to eight credit hours of German can be earned at the first, second and third-year levels.

Afternoons will provide freedom for sports participation, reading, fishing, a float trip and visits to nearby German-speaking communities including Hermann, Luebering and Augusta (site of a winery). The fee for tuition, room and board is $870. Limited aid is available. For further information, Quad-Cityans may write to Professors June Mueller and James F. Poag, co-directors, Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures, Campus Box 1104, Washington University, St. Louis 63130, or may call 514-889-5160.

Bible study courses offered

A four-week course in Bible study techniques will be offered by Briarcliff Pentecostal Church, 1120 W. Germantown Road. The course will be taught by the Rev. Paul Bower.

Class schedules are: June 5, How to Read Scripture; June 12, Analyzing Verses; June 19, Topical Studies; and June 26, The Use of Study Bibles. The time for the classes is 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and there is no cost. Rev. Bower has been in the active ministry for over 20 years as an evangelist, pastor and Bible teacher. He received a ministerial diploma from Golden Oaks Bible College in Roseville, Calif., where he was also vice-president, president and instructor in various Bible courses and principles.

Performances of the two operas will be on Friday and Saturday, June 15th and 16th, at the Barn near Greenfield, and June 21st at Hathaway Hall, Lewis & Clark Community College, Godfrey. Curtain time for all performances is 8:15 p.m. Tickets are $3.25 regular and $1.50 for children and senior citizens.

The program is partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency.

Role-playing that's played for real

By ANNE THAYER

Joseph Wambaugh, the Los Angeles policeman who evolved into a successful novelist, got so mad a year ago at scriptwriters' "distortions" of his works, that he mortgaged his home to produce his next movie himself.

TV, too, sometimes raised his ire in the adaptation process. ("Police Story" and its spinoff-offs, originated with him.) In one spinoff he asked to have his name removed from a screen credit because he felt the scripters, hell-bent for action scenes, were losing touch with the realities as he saw them.

Many police organizations agreed with Wambaugh in his objections, while — fairly enough — praising the honest depictions.

Art, however, does sometimes imitate life.

Hal Linden, who plays the lead in ABC's "Barney Miller," says he gets more invitations than he can accept to address law enforcement groups — but he accepts as many as he can.

He philosophizes that he as an actor does have a point in common with the cops who applaud the series. "We have humor in our show, yes. But never at the expense of honesty. I feel good about that."

Raymond Burr, too, while he was living "Ironside," was a frequent guest speaker at police organization events. Before that, for years when he starred in "Perry Mason" he was wooed to speak out for and to lawyers.

REEL-LIFE journalism has turned into real-life journalism for Bob Walden of CBS's "Lou Grant." These days he's busy writing for several newspapers seeking pieces by the multi-talented actor.

But sometimes a role gets way under the skin.

For two seasons David Hartman, now the host of "Good Morning, America" starred as a young surgeon in "The Bold Ones." But being a man with a yen to learn, he frequented hospitals, observed operations and proved so conversant with modern medicine that friendships with Dr. Michael DeBakey and other top medical authorities developed.

Somebody inside the medical establishment wisely figured that few of the doctors themselves, except for an occasional talk show, would ever speak directly to the millions. But the impressions left by Hartman's on-screen character, though fictional, were espousing some truths.

Later, Hartman, "strictly as a lay person," as he put it, produced a fine documentary on birth and post-natal care of infants. After its TV showings, it was placed into school libraries across the country.

Now the newspaper field has its show in CBS's "Lou Grant," with Robert Walden as the feisty, idealistic young reporter, Rossi, getting a hero's laurels.

When asked to give out journalistic awards in a California ceremony, Bob said he was pleased to be the choice of the awarding group. But he said, "I do it with mirrors, you're the ones who really do the reporting."

Bob added he held one point in common with professional news persons. "They have a sense of adventure. They have to go off on a moment's notice to something new. Life is something like that for actors, too."

But interestingly, Bob Walden has found himself drawn into real-life journalism. After researching Rossi's character and motivations, a succession of newspapers — among them The Washington Post and The New York Times — have asked him to write pieces.

Because it turns out he CAN write, which struck him as a bigger surprise than it did the editors. "I never considered journalism," he says.

Now, as a side-interest, it's a challenge. He adds, "I do want to get my writing muscles trained to the point where I write every day."

And on reflection, he doesn't know why he was "surprised" at dashing off one article in an hour and a half.

"Actors today, when you think about it, are well-educated ... college graduates most of them. And they have inquiring minds."

Drama tonight

The East Bank Players will present two more performances of the melodrama, "Pure As the Driven Snow" today and Friday at Polish Hall, 826 Greenwood St., Madison.

The melodrama, directed by Ruth Bradley contains the usual stalwart hero, the adorable heroine and the dastardly villain. There are also additional characters who are involved with the plot.

Bill Sugg, the show's assistant director, supervised the old acts which will be presented during the intermissions. Both performances will begin at 8:15 p.m. and tickets will be available at the door.

Trespass to auto charged

Samuel M. Nicola, 20, of 700 Old Alton Road, was charged with criminal trespass to a motor vehicle after the station wagon of Bill Shortall, Wood River, was entered and a tool box, an in-dash radio, two speakers and a decibel meter were removed at 2:55 p.m. Monday.

The vehicle was at the Moose Lodge, 19th and Adams streets, when the incident occurred. A witness saw three young men enter the vehicle and remove items, making three trips between the auto and a yard in the 1900 block of Adams Street, where they left the radio, speakers and tool box. Police were called and recovered all the items, except the decibel meter. Based upon a description given by the witness, Nicola was arrested in downtown Granite City.

A 14-year-old boy also was taken into custody and was released pending discussions with city juvenile authorities.

NAACP observes anniversary of court ruling

A proclamation to commemorate the 1954 U.S. Supreme Court decision which held that segregation in public education is unconstitutional was issued by the mayors of the Quad-City area last week.

The proclamation, signed by Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City, Tyronne Echols of Venice and Mike Sank of Madison, called upon all elected officials and citizens "to exert active individual leadership in making equality a reality for all Americans."

MARIJUANA ARREST
Robert E. Reed, 18, of 1020 Courtenay Blvd., was arrested on the rear steps of Nantooki School early this week and was charged with possession of marijuana. Police alleged he and a 17-year-old boy were "acting suspiciously and when an officer approached, Reed tried to hide a pipe in his clothing, so he was searched and the pipe containing marijuana was found," officers alleged. The other boy was released after he was searched.

TRUCKS FOR SALE
Nameki Township is accepting bids for the sale of two trucks and one mosquito fogger, which have been declared surplus. The trucks are not in operating condition. The bids will be opened at the board's regular meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, June 11, for study by the board of trustees.

Substance to lower blood pressure found in onions

Although it may be premature to say that an onion belongs on your medicine shelf, scientists have found a substance known to lower blood pressure in this esteemed vegetable. It was reported at the 1979 Chemical Congress co-sponsored by the American Chemical Society and The Chemical Society of Japan in Honolulu.

The new findings mark the first time that one of the biologically active compounds, called prostaglandins, have been found in plants.

Known as prostaglandin A1, the compound lowers blood pressure when injected intravenously.

"Whether onions could actually lower blood pressure in humans depends on the untested ability of prostaglandin A1 to survive the digestive process, although folklore exists for such an effect," said Mrs. Katherine A. Attrep of East Texas State University, Commerce.

Nevertheless, "it appears that there may be some reason to investigate the use of onion as an agent for lowering blood pressure," she says in a summary of the research.

Co-authors of the report are Drs. Moses Attrep and W. P. Bellman of East Texas State; Dr. James B. Lee of the State University of New York-Buffalo; and Dr. W. E. Brazelton Jr. of the Medical College of Georgia-Augusta.

In general, prostaglandins display a remarkable range of biological activity that is stimulating considerable research in pharmaceutical firms," the report states.

Onions contain a small amount of prostaglandin A1, roughly 0.25 milligrams per average bulb.

One milligram of the active onion extract produced a dramatic drop in blood pressure when injected into rats. Blood pressure fell from an average of 125 over 90 to 65 over 15 and returned to normal within the hour.

Authentic prostaglandin A1 produced an identical effect at one hundredth of the dose, Attrep said.

The success of such home treatments have not been evaluated, at least to their knowledge, the authors say.

After screening numerous plants, the authors chose onion as the most promising source. Garlic shows some evidence, as yet unconfirmed, of containing prostaglandin A1.

"In the early stages of our investigation we screened numerous plants for the presence of compounds which had certain characteristics as that of prostaglandins."

"The plants were chosen on the basis of (1) the use of the plant for medicinal purposes lowering blood pressure and/or (2) the presence of certain 20-carbon atom fatty acids in the plants which might act as precursors for the production of prostaglandins in those plants," they say.

What an agent that lowers blood pressure is doing in onions "may be very difficult to explain," they add.

Reading skill class

"Summertime and the reading is easy." To make it easier, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a five-week summer class beginning June 18 to improve reading skills.

The one-hour elective course, Developmental reading (GSK 100B), will help individuals eliminate inefficient reading habits and improve comprehension, vocabulary and reading rate.

"It is designed for both the reader who needs help in improving skills and the reader who wants to be more efficient," according to Jane Denny, counselor in the Office of Academic Advancement, which sponsors the program.

No prerequisites are required for the class, which is open to both university and off-campus students. Classes will meet daily, Monday through Thursday, 11:30-12:30, or on Tuesday and Thursday only, 12:30-2:20 p.m. Both sections will use Room 1322, Building II.

University students may register for either course through the regular registration procedure beginning May 29. Off-campus students may register and pay the $18 fee at the first class meeting June 18.

FIRE AT DAIRY
Fire late last week caused minor damage to a scrap blower motor at Prairie Farms Dairy, Adams Street and Niedringhaus Avenue. Officials said workers using a torch started the blaze. Granite City firemen extinguished the fire.

DON'T LET OLD WINDOWS RUIN YOUR SPRING.

REPLACE THEM WITH THERMAL-GARD INSULATED REPLACEMENT WINDOWS.

Along with the warm weather comes a not-so-hot job. The scraping, sanding and painting of old windows.

By replacing them with Thermal-Gard, you can start flipping burgers instead of fighting ladders. Thermal-Gard's white satin vinyl-clad finish will not chip, peel or blister. It stays vibrant and beautiful, season after season.

Besides the can-free finish, there's no-sweat cleaning. Both a scratch fill-in for safe and simple washing.

SAVE ON UTILITY COSTS YEAR-ROUND.

Thermal-Gard's as tough inside as it is outside. Its dual-paned one-inch thermal barrier stops costly air drafts. Eight-way weather stripping, and interlocking sash, and its custom-fit complete the draft-blocking system.

Give us a call or write today. We'll get you off the windows and into a great mood.

Hooks will speak

Benjamin Hooks, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), will speak at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Tuesday, May 29.

Sponsored by the University Center Board, the Black Student Association and the National Town Meeting, the lecture is scheduled in the Communications Building theater at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $2 for SIUE students and $5 for non-students.

Hooks, an attorney and minister from Tennessee, resigned his position on the Federal Communications Commission to replace Roy Wilkins as executive director of the NAACP upon Wilkins' retirement.

The oldest and largest organization of its kind in the U.S., the NAACP was the major pioneer in the advancement of civil rights through litigation and lobbying efforts.

Considering the revitalization of the NAACP, Hooks said, "After the heady days of the so-called civil rights revolution during which black and white folks felt they had to attack each other, the wrongs of disenfranchisement and segregated public accommodations, a period of re-consolidation and regrouping was normal."

County's urban fund hearing this evening

Madison County has been informed by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) that the county's application for discretionary funds in the amount of $462,000 submitted to HUD in January 1979 for review has been approved for submission of a complete application to request the above discretionary funds.

Activities that may be undertaken with these funds

Fewer seek directory assistance

Calls to directory assistance dropped for the third month in a row, according to the report Illinois Bell has filed in May with the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Results for March showed calls to directory assistance were 22.6 percent below those of a year ago. During January, calls to directory assistance were 10.37 percent under those made in January, 1978. February callers were 18.8 percent below those of a year ago.

Illinois Bell customers received $903,410 in credits during March as part of the company's directory assistance charging plan. The plan was approved on a two-year experimental basis by the commission last November and became effective with billing dates on and after Jan. 4, 1979.

The 25-cent credit for each main telephone line is given each month to residential and most business customers, regardless of the customer's directory assistance usage.

"About 8 percent of residence customers and 14 percent of business customers received charges on their bills during March for making more than eight calls per line to directory assistance."

"The company billed almost 87,000 residence customers $77,000 and billed 51,000 business customers $37,000."

Crediting of customers' bills began with Jan. 4 bills. Credit of 25 cents per main telephone line per month is given to each residential and business customer with the following exceptions: the credit does not apply to Gentrex customers, PBX systems, coin lines, hotel, motel and hospital lines.

The directory assistance charging plan allows residence and most business customers eight free calls to directory assistance during each monthly billing period. Customers are charged 20 cents for each call over the eight-call per line allowance. The company began counting calls on billing dates on and after Jan. 4. Charges for excess calls appeared on bills dated Feb. 4 and thereafter.
